WHEN LIFE GIVES YOU LAVA...

June 10-14, 2019

Lava has allowed the Hawaiian Islands to not only form, but to flourish with life! This week we will take a trip back in time, about 65 million years that is, to learn just how the Hawaiian Islands came to be the islands we know today. Campers will immerse themselves into local geography, legends, and gain an understanding of how some of the world's most unique plants and animals developed here in the middle of the Pacific!

TAKE ME DOWN TO TURTLE TOWN

June 17-21, 2019

Can you imagine a 1,200 mile commute? For Hawaii's only native reptiles, sea turtles, that's the distance of their annual roundtrip migration from the main Hawaiian Islands to the Northwestern Hawaiian Islands. This week we'll learn all about these ancient animals that we share our islands and ocean with!

GOT PLANKTON?

July 1-5, 2019

Plankton, the drifters of our ocean, carry the weight of an enormous responsibility; they're the base of the marine food web! They provide everything from most of the oxygen we breathe to the next meal for the largest animal to have ever existed on our planet. This week will allow campers to see just how amazing and essential plankton are to our way of life!

NOW YOU SEE ME, NOW YOU DON'T!

Whether you're aware of their presence or not, we're often surrounded by some of the planet's best disguise artists out there. This week we're going to test our skills at uncovering local animals that specialize in camouflaging among our islands' natural habitats. We'll spend time working to understand just how these artists are able to blend in so seamlessly, and even make our own attempts at camouflaging!
