

OH, THE PLACES WHALES GO

December 23-27, 2019

At least 18 species of marine mammals make Hawai'i their home for all or part of the year, but only one species in particular makes its presence known every winter with some of the biggest splashes produced in the animal kingdom. This week we'll be diving deep to see what we can uncover regarding some of the mysteries surrounding humpback whales and their behaviors around the world!
